

COMMUNITY SAFETY ACT

Common-Sense Legislation to Address
Discriminatory & Ineffective Policing

FACT SHEET (9/2/2013)

New Yorkers want to live in a safe city where all residents are treated with dignity and respect, and where the New York City Police Department (NYPD) is not above the law. Communities United for Police Reform (CPR) is proud to support two bills of the Community Safety Act that will be coming to a vote of the full New York City Council in 2013: the End Discriminatory Profiling Act (Intro 1080) creating a strong ban on discriminatory profiling by police, and the NYPD Oversight Act (Intro 1079) establishing meaningful NYPD oversight. Both bills were passed with veto-proof majorities in June 2013. Mayor Bloomberg vetoed both bills at the end of July. The New York City Council overrode the Mayor's vetoes of both bills on August 22, 2013.

About the End Discriminatory Profiling Act (Int. 1080)

Protects New Yorkers against discriminatory and ineffective policing. What the legislation would do:

- Establish an enforceable ban on profiling and discrimination by the NYPD. The current racial profiling ban in NYC has no mechanism to enforce the law.
- Broaden the categories of communities protected from discrimination. In addition to race, ethnicity, religion and national origin, categories protected against discriminatory profiling would include: age, gender, gender identity and expression, sexual orientation, immigration status, disability and housing status.
- Make the NYPD accountable for practices such as stop-and-frisk that have a disproportionate impact on communities of color and other New Yorkers. In addition to claims based on intentional discrimination, New Yorkers would be able to bring claims based on unjustified and disproportionate impact on certain communities.

About the NYPD Oversight Act (Int. 1079)

Supports better policing by creating mechanisms for transparency and accountability of the NYPD. What the legislation would do:

- Assigns responsibility for NYPD oversight to the Commissioner of the Department of Investigation. In NYC, the DOI currently oversees about 300 city agencies – including the Fire Department, Department of Education and Human Resources Administration – but not the NYPD. The FBI, CIA and LAPD all have an inspector general.
- Oversight would include reviewing and auditing NYPD operations, policies, programs and practices. An inspector general would not be involved in operational decisions.
- Improve transparency and accountability. Reports would be made public and revisited annually to see if recommendations have been followed.
