

COMMUNITIES UNITED FOR POLICE REFORM

JOB Posting DIRECTOR OF COMMUNICATIONS This position will be open until filled.

About Communities United for Police Reform (CPR): Communities United for Police Reform \(CPR\) is an unprecedented campaign to end discriminatory policing practices in New York, and to build a lasting movement that promotes public safety and reduces reliance on policing. CPR runs coalitions of over 200 local, statewide and national organizations, bringing together a movement of community members, lawyers, researchers and activists to work for change.

Director of Communications Position Summary: This position will develop, implement and oversee a multi-tiered strategic communications plan to ensure the campaign integrates strategic communications into every aspect of its work, and expands CPR's reputation as a leading voice in movements for social justice and police accountability. The Director of Communications will lead and oversee CPR's traditional media/media relations strategies, digital/online/social/mobile strategies, publications, and grassroots communication strategies. As a senior manager in a small staff team, the ideal candidate is a seasoned communications strategist who is committed to CPR's issues, flexible and effective in a fast-paced and evolving environment and has a great sense of humor.

RESPONSIBILITIES

Traditional Media/Media Relations (60%) – Work with relevant staff, members, partners and consultants to ensure consistent media coverage of CPR and ensure that CPR's goals are advanced through traditional media outlets, including:

- Develop and manage annual and monthly calendar of story placements, media events, releases and rollouts.
- Develop, pitch, and place news stories, op-eds and rapid response statements that advance core priority areas.
- Cultivate and maintain relationships with key reporters covering the NYPD, city and state politics, and national racial/gender/LGBT/economic justice and police accountability issues
- Develop relationships with editorial boards, conducting outreach, producing editorial board memos, and other efforts to secure editorials that advance CPR's priorities
- Generate and maintain talking point documents for priority areas and issues, for use by relevant staff, members and key partners.
- Manage and leverage Communications Affinity Group, consisting of communications staff of campaign member organizations, to collectively advance core CPR priorities in traditional media

Online, mobile and grassroots media (15%) – Oversee and supervise CPR's online, e-comms, mobile and grassroots media to promote campaign goals, key events, issue education and fundraising efforts, including:

- Supervise other communications staff/consultants, including those who manage and create content for digital and social media channels and e-communications
- Oversee work with staff, members and partners to develop and implement online, email, mobile and grassroots media strategies that promote CPR's overall campaign priorities and communications plan.
- Work with relevant staff and others to draft and produce key fact sheets, documents, infographics, and publications.

Spokespeople & Member Support (15%) – Work with relevant staff to prepare CPR member organizations to act as CPR media spokespeople, as well as prepare key partners to represent particular areas of the campaign. This includes:

- Support and develop spokespeople and work with staff, relevant members and partners to ensure that CPR has a diverse pool of spokespeople able to speak effectively about our priorities (e.g. mock interviews, prep calls, etc.)
- Coordinate annual communications trainings (e.g. for CPR media spokespeople)

- Provide limited consultation and support to CPR member organizations related to their communications work on key CPR priority areas

Other Responsibilities (10%)

- Participate in resource development activities, including fundraising appeals and asks.
- Share infrastructure/administrative responsibilities with other staff; participate in staff and other campaign meetings, as requested.

QUALIFICATIONS and SKILLS of Ideal Candidate

- Passion for/knowledge of police accountability issues and demonstrated commitment to the vision and values of CPR. Commitment and demonstrated experience working with diverse directly-affected communities including: communities of color, low-income people, youth, LGBTQ people, homeless people, immigrants, women, and people with disabilities.
- At least 5-7 years of experience developing and leading successful multi-tiered communication strategies, preferably for advocacy-based and/or political campaigns (e.g. policy reform, community organizing, and/or civic engagement campaigns), with understanding of and work with coalition models. Familiarity and experience with New York city/state police accountability, political and social justice movement landscape strongly preferred.
- At least 5 years of experience supervising staff, consultants, interns, volunteers.
- Excellent writing and editing skills, including a demonstrated ability to analyze issues, think strategically, and communicate complex issues clearly through a variety of media-related materials and in newsworthy sound bites; ability and track record of writing well, quickly, and within deadlines.
- Proven track record of cultivating relationships with key reporters to secure positive and prominent media coverage of key issues and spokespeople.
- Strong interpersonal, coaching and team skills, including: Demonstrated experience supporting and developing media spokesperson skills of grassroots leaders; ability to understand and act on complexities of group/coalition dynamics; proven ability to help lead committees towards results
- Strong understanding of and experience with developing branding, online engagement and managing a variety of social media and advocacy-based media platforms.
- Understanding of, and flexibility in, a small team, fast-paced environment and excellent organizational skills: creative, results and detail-oriented, excellent judgement and able to manage and prioritize multiple responsibilities within deadlines.
