

THE RIGHT TO KNOW ACT: Frequently Asked Questions

Q: I think an officer violated my rights and didn't follow the Right To Know Act laws – how do I report this?

You can file a complaint with the Civilian Complaint Review Board (CCRB) online at bit.ly/CCRBComplaint or by calling 1-800-341-2272.

Q: What if I have questions about the Right To Know Act or I need help navigating the system?

You can contact any of the following CPR members with questions — or if you don't want to file a CCRB complaint but want someone to know the police violated your rights.

Q: I was stopped on the street by an officer – how do I get a copy of the stop report they made?

You can request a copy of the stop report here: <http://bit.ly/StopReport>.

Remember, if they stopped you and you weren't given a summons or arrested, the officer should have given you their business card, which might make it easier to get your stop report.

Q: I refused to agree to a search when I was in my car and the cop was rude in response. How do I get a copy of the body worn camera footage that the cop took?

You can request a copy of bodyworn camera footage by going here: <http://bit.ly/BWCfoil>.

You should receive acknowledgement of your request within 5 days, and you should generally receive a copy of your footage within 90 days.

Q: How can I get more involved in fighting for police accountability?

You can join or volunteer with one of our member organizations. A list of Communities United for Policer Reform (CPR) members can be found here: <http://bit.ly/CPRmembers>.

You can also sign up for our email list to learn more about the issues here: changethenypd.org.
